I argue that we quote two sources making one work. This is to define the dialogue or dialogues with people whom created a book. It is a passion about listening to Christian radios that drives me to define God, after my reappropriation of the Christian religion. The Christianity of Charles urged me to become a Christian again, to improve myself. Then Grace's conversion allowed me to continue the book. I try in this book to create a path to answer questions about religion.

Good reading...

I Did Not Believe in God.

The best way to explain the spiritual transformation is to explain a reconversion course. At first, I did not believe in God. But I was just wondering if it existed without finding answers. The beginning of my journey seeking God begins with scientific brainstorming. Indeed, it is explained to me that to think scientifically is to emit hypotheses, to test them, including with the others, then we emit a higher hypothesis, which includes the other hypotheses. It has been explained to me that Plato has defined this scientific thinking.

With this truth's research, I use Plato to establish my truth's path. I then explain the experience of the balls' chaos that move in every directions. I am told that it is impossible for them to organize themselves. I find this valuable and therefore agrees that someone is trying to organize molecules that move in every directions. It's about souls.

Then I read Leibniz' monadology. It explains that there is a infinity's notion in life, because it is impossible for two living beings to exactly equal each other, even the twins. Indeed, there are heat differences between twins. The monads explain both the nerves and the soul, which gives something magical to leibnizian science.

Then, I believe that hell does not exist, so that paradise does not exist. But I can not find any answer about the life's meaning. If someone created us, it's good for us to go somewhere. I believe in heaven. I only wonder if souls can be recycled, as I thought before. I thought it less and less. Now, I tell myself that some souls will be restored to another universe.

Being Hacked is Granting Me

I created coaching with a book pedagogy from 2006, also called Scientific Coaching by Solutions, when i wrote How to write stories in french. On 2012, it has reviewed quickly an international newspaper pedagogy, after helping myself them after.

While writing about Henry Charles Carey books, on 2014, a just written analysis about oportunity to create local banks in France, used by Alexandre Jardin next month to create banks.

I was also creating a book to become creative. So all of these news interested Mathieu Sommet. So 40 000 youngs followed my articles this year begining, and 20 000 youngs followed Espace des Sciences, where i was viewed. That's the archived followers' beginning.

My pedagogy to learn clarinet from flute is used by a newspaper, also read regularly next.

I also reviewed Henry Charles Carey on wikipedia. After that, Quebec followed by USA diffused old thesis about this famous and hidden economics' scientist.

On 2017, after understanding kids while pholophizing with a few, i have written Economy for Kids and for Infants in french.

On 2018, an article to create a right to genius law, has created a truth research for kids. So, Fidelity to Mayenne Radio has explained that on 2019 or before.

On 2018 too, an article about some souls for universe, from Kepler, made me write about a time linked to soul theory, which explains beginning of life. So Aurélien Barrau spoken about that after, on 2018 and 2019.

When i wrote about radioactivity or waves creating material, a news that was erased from privatised NASA web-site, David Elbaz reacted to that after on 2019, explaining that material was created.

You can find my free ebooks and last proofs on archive.org, linking to web.archive.org. I am also happy to discover near me friendly and creative politics with kids like Geneviève on mediaparks.fr, some that thanks me like Nathalie Appéré and economics' kids in my city.

Authors' Biography

Matthew GIROUX knows that intelligence and happiness are found while seeking for truth. This truth's research makes it possible to find a child's joy, a joy that becomes the our happiness' flame, to create every day. Our mind can only grow if it has found answers to its questions.

Thus, after writing poems to understand his emotions, news to narrate with poetry, it was a book on writing that engaged him to train others, for his greatest happiness. A second coaching book on creativity was born.

This book, Christian, is made for healthy people or people wanting to become one. There is in this book a desire to flourish and to transmit. It can also please those whom want to grow, later or now. It helps to explain life.

Computer scientist and public writer, but also economist of the real economy, you have or will have new dense and meaningful works, so that you too become ingenious and philosophical. This is a few simple but useful daily steps of reading and writing.

Preface

The goal of this preface is to summarize the book, so that the different scientific questions are posted from the beginning. This allows you to seek the truth, reading the book, for your greatest happiness.

First of all, it is impossible to organize balls that go in every directions. Yet that's life does. The universe can create life, unless it is a God. In the same way, individuals are the cells of the body society, just as societies are tissues, or jobs are specialized cells.

Thus the universe is organized. Einstein said that it is impossible to organize an explosion, which the universe did. The universe should have a soul. The lesser action's work of light would confirm this soul. So gravity works in a vacuum. It also confirms a soul that would be gravity, in another universe, to also direct the light.

So we can think that God would be a soul, which would create other souls, including ours and those of the universe, larger. Indeed, Luc Montagnier, the discoverer of AIDS, was able to recreate DNA from microwaves of our body. Where would these microwaves come from? Of the soul, no doubt, of another world surely.

Our mind was designed to seek the truth. When we are in joy, it is because we have discovered a truth. If we give ourselves pleasure, in the short term often, it is not as happy as a joy, because the joy will return in us, different, while the pleasure will be forgotten, similar. This explains that our mind is not born with chance. We are created to seek the truth.

A body that has cancer, certainly due to the environment, requires external intervention to be cured. In the same way, society should also require external intervention, when human society is disorganized. It is the role of the Holy Spirit whom speaks to us, as with the Secrets of Fatima, as with Jesus Christ.

The gospels, certainly reworked, went against every established current laws. These gospels, if we respect them, should make us a saint. Jesus Christ came to Earth to make us Saints, because he even said that we should join him, if we were seeking the truth, if we believed in God, if we were charitable, which is according to him the most difficult to achieve. For simplicity, we will join God if we are righteous.

Lourdes shows that there remains on Earth a Holy Spirit. Indeed, doctors can not explain the miracles of Lourdes. On the other hand, the Holy Spirit acts only in one place, as Jesus has shown, having also lived into the center of three continents, because it seems that every soul can act only towards a single objective, including God.

The chaos goals, with Karl Marx and the liberal order, were revealed in Fatima.

Seeking the Truth

Why to Seek the Truth?

We do not know why there is life. If life is a material's organization, we do not know why society is organized. The why is therefore a question that directs our will to live.

Seeking the truth helps to find happiness. Our mind is satisfied with the truth. That's how we were all designed. Those who repress the truth are unhappy. To seek the truth is to understand how the world works.

At the beginning we look for different truths. We are dissatisfied to switch from one to the other. Then we are interested in a truth that clashes our life because it challenges us. So we rise hypotheses while seeking our truth. We seek our truth with our friends to find our happiness. Then, one day, our soul stands out. Also, Then, one day, our soul answers us. So, we ask to find the truth to catch mankind's happiness. We are looking for the truth through meditation and dialogue.

We are made to solve problems. To be afraid of problems is not to be prepared to find the solution. It's normal to be afraid of problems. But seeking the truth makes it possible to quickly find the solutions, to no longer be afraid of others, by dialogue, meditating.

Intuition gives us knowledge. Sometimes it surprises us, if we listen. Intuition helps us to solve our truth's research. It's about using intuition to transform more easily. Answering his intuition can be fulfilled for his happiness and that of others.

So, sometimes, we wonder how we could, so easily, find a solution to such complex problems. God may have helped us.

So, we can reach the truth a while. We will have awakened our senses. It's not God's truth, which only God knows about. It can be a human

Look and dialogue
around when you walk,
to guess truths ...

truth that we can define, being so Humans' truth of our country or of the world, at that moment or afterwards. This truth designs human and God can intervene for it.

It's about being one body to look for truth. We can call it baptism. Seeking the truth makes it possible to build the society's body, local at first, then national. So we understand the truths of other countries, like childhood, while defining human and gospel. So, thanks to human economy, that is to say understanding movements or links of human society, we understand mankind past truth, even that of an instant, even that which lasts.

It can be a new cause for scientists to improve science's axioms. It can be for a musician to find his music's meaning. It can be for the manual craft to use its hands creating something new and economical, so useful. It could be helping someone to rise his mind. It can be a truth that speaks to us and our work. Then we forget about the ego, knowing himself, seeing that's behind us.

We've awaken our senses. Intuition through dialogue or writing has shown us our way.

Dialogue with others will have changed us, because our mind will change our soul to transform our mind. Then we're the Christ. So the Holy Spirit can help us, for our cause, which is human's truth. God does not touch soul at these times. When the Holy Spirit leaves us, it is inside us, for our soul. Inside us, negative becomes positive, just thinking. We endure attacks. Spirit is here to help us. So we seek truth's joy to guide us. More we show the truth, more we save. It is therefore possible that God restores our soul's pulpit to know us as when he saw us reaching him.

My Notes

Readings

Read and Write about Master Eckhart, one of that has risen Nicolas De Cuse.

Organizing with Sin

It should be impossible to organize a society with sinners. Indeed, a sinner wants chaos. So our society should be chaotic.

So we were born dismissed with the reflex to rise through work. We are ignorant and we understand ourselves with others. Thus, our destiny is due to society or to an example that has grown us. Thus a sinner who does not want to grow will still feel dependent on society.

Autonomy does not really exist but is hammered by devil to make us stupid. Indeed, our own truth's research, so asking ourselves why we are there, gives us answers with human spirit, a spirit containing all spirits. Indeed, humans understand each other through the human spirit. A species different from another species has difficulty understanding this other species.

Thus, those who do not want to grow will still participate to society. Those who want to understand their uncertainty will find answers with ideas simplifying human world, while the world is very complex.

The complexity thus becomes simple for the one who seeks truth, since he has the answers to his questions making it possible to reorganize everything with benefit according to what he wants. Thus he will be ahead of those who follow and will be their prophet. So a non-Christian who seeks the truth will eventually finish ahead of a Christian follower.

Finding Happiness

To find happiness, you have to understand that your life serves to something. Indeed, life can not be risky. It is everywhere. There is no chaos on Earth. So that means that the Universe is ordering. In this regard, you can read the Jean Jaurès' thesis, The Reality of the Sensitive World.

From the moment we say that our life serves to something, we are likely to find happiness. So it's about strengthening that will understanding the world. It will be about of meditation, to link, so that our reason and our faith are connected. They speak to us.

So it will be about finding a superior belief, because everyone believes, that it is to the chaos, to the money, to the material, to his wife or his man, to God. The more we find a belief above others, the more it will bring our happiness, because if something is organized, there is a reason.

His belief will be, at first, hypotheses, to be confirmed. Then our soul will give us, then, a higher hypothesis, then other higher hypotheses, according to the unexplained links. So this will bring each time our happiness, joy or questioning around us. Then many do not believe that their life is useful, in crisis' times. We will give them our happiness, what we understand. If we are not understood, it is about defining.

Doubt is allowed, but it must strengthen our faith. Indeed, if we no longer believe, then we no longer exist. That should mean that we do not think anything.

Meditate

An idea borns from our unconscious. Our unconscious speaks to us and emits ideas. Our unconscious is the part of our mind that thinks without telling us, alone. So when our mind stands, the unconscious thinks. He influences us, according to and for our truth's research.

First of all, the mind must be rested to be able to use its unconscious. Indeed, the world of the early twenty-first century is full of transgressions, leading to desire to the short view. This short view's desire turns our minds around like in a circle, instead of being transforming, according to the truth's research. It has been scientifically ascertained that the mind's troubles are due to the mind's blockage, blocked to make the same way, at a certain place. An unconscious that can not think for ourselves prevents us from binding. So unthinkable information ends up being accepted, because it is repeated and because we do not think about it. There is a correlation between psychic disorders and the media's goal in 2015.

Knowing that it is not about going around in the same way, it is about creating objectives to grow towards the long way, in order to link again in our mind. It is then about going against that our unconscious says to us as explicit and false, that is to say understandable easily but false, to replace it by what is implicit in our unconscious and true, that is, to say little understandable by others but true. Religions speak about the evil spirit that says lies to us. It was the unconscious that accepted things that it knew were false, because they were repeated or aggressive.

A mind, stuck around the same ideas, should prevent sleeping. Physical activity helps you sleeping better. Meditating, after playing music, will allow you to play in your mind, without music, or rather with the music of your mind. This will solve a lot of psychic problems. Also it will clear the "making with same way" of television. Our unconscious will be better activated thanks to the rest. We will be sociable and we will want to adapt to others.

Meditation is not just about finding an idea, to be satisfied with that. Some scientists or religious say, "An idea is elementary! ". Indeed, meditation has different objectives. Meditation and dialogue bind faith and reason. Faith is the fact to trust someone morally. The reason is to clearly anticipate a reality. As soon as we think that we will lose faith, it is possible that our reason is lost. Just like the one whom has lost his reason ends up losing faith. Doubt fills us then and asks to make choices. We will be able to choose wrongly and reconsider our decision. In this case it is not necessary to choose the easier, but to seek truth. It is essential that faith and reason to be united, through dialogue, scientific questioning and meditation.

The first meditation's goal is to adapt our mind to our environment. This is the short view vision while meditating. While preparing our mind through the link, we can assign one or more scientific and human solutions to any problem. Thus, we are increasingly seeking to solve problems for which we are made. It can lead us to new passions and new talents.

The second objective is not to prepare to find an idea, that is to say scientifically to use a neuron. It is about linking a set of neurons, to be able to propose several choices or solutions to the one that could not accept an unique solution. It will also be about finding a way to convince through dialogue and scientific philosophy. We will also deal with emotions with poetry and writing. We will have a physical or musical activity, so that the neurons are well irrigated and united by the blood flows. Many have the need to let off steam, so that their spirit is at best and complete.

The third objective is, after the first two, to listen to the one whom organizes the universe, with life and our spirit. To understand God, it is about taking risks for the human and for the nature. With meditation, it is therefore to take calculated risks, to acquire lasting rights, for himself too. Those who ask a lot get what they need.

When our mind is sufficiently adapted to the human environment, it can anticipate that will happen. Meditation can also encompass human society. Thus, to anticipate communism and liberalism, Lucie showed the Secrets of Fatima. These secrets anticipate so much on the human that they indicated choices to be made, compared to the anticipated falls of communism and liberalism. Others will tell you about the card player, who wins without cheating, although all believe the opposite.

The fourth objective, according to religion, after this necessity for me to create links in the mind, is above all to find links between spirit and material. Our quest for truth will indeed enable us to create our talent, or to perfect it. But we are very dependent of our environment. Our relational spirit needs objects to understand each other. We are creative by our reason too. We have to help this reason with certain objects.

A passionate spirit can be built to anticipate or circumvent more or less long and regular events, expected or feared. We grow then to adapt our mind to anticipate the most feared events. If these events are not resolved, then wanting, like every child, the power, so the power to solve the crucial problems for us, we create us ersatz power. These events will be solved with scientific meditation and dialogue, primarily by the human. We can only meditate on these events with forgiveness and calmness. If these events are solved, our unconscious will encourage us to anticipate other events. Our mind will grow quickly.

Before sleeping,

Giving Happiness

Many are pessimistic because they see pessimism from others. So they give pessimism to others. It is about getting rid of this gloom to smile, when we do not know what else to do. It is about giving optimism and joy to others.

We are happy when we find the truth. Thus, those who seek the truth can bring happiness to others. With a dialogue we demand indirectly what he wants, rather what his mind wants. Indeed, corruption prevents many people from telling the truth. So those who seek the truth learn to get the people's message while giving happiness.

Charity is when you can give your person to others. We often talk about money. But if we think that the other is sincere, it is to ask him what he can not get. So whoever gives is happy to know the benefits of happiness. A dialogue and his soul wants us the best.

It's about loving instead of moping. It's about acting instead of doing nothing. It is about supporting instead of repressing, about being for instead of being against. It's about thinking, instead of going awkwardly. Life is a war against the material's imperfection. It's about coaching himself instead of letting go.

My Notes

Take daily resolutions to get out of this material's imperfection.

Helping gives happiness.

Going on a Mission

Going on a mission is to discover truths, to be satisfied while giving happiness to others, to marvel with the smile of a human work, also to learn loving society and others. We become a society's economist then. Going to his mission is something that makes us walking on a path to the unknown, driven by his truth's research. It's about knowing why we are on Earth. Are we on Earth to accumulate goods? Or are we on Earth for others to enrich ourselves?

It is about acting according to its origins and its name, to grow discovering his family and a destiny. We do that when we are not hijacked by employment, which should to be a work really serving others. If our work serves others, then our truth's research goes. Our happiness comes.

The mission makes it possible to know the society, to participate into it, in order to grow our usefulness. So, the others see us into our best way. So the advice given is for life. Some missions, those we want to achieve, have more merit because we use our passion to transform ourselves.

My Notes

Write about your origins and your future.

Going on a mission can mean walking.

Our Society Grows

The human society story is explained with various factors. First of all Homo sapiens, since birth, has been a social individual more and more creative and sensitive. The human's creativity has been revealed while mastering nature revealing its powers. Understanding nature has allowed homo sapiens's birth. When Africa was a great desert, the first 1000 homos sapiens controlled the tides, in the African beaches, to then repopulate Namibia, then, as and when, populate the planet, mastering fire.

When homo sapiens faces to seemingly insurmountable difficulty, Homo sapiens has this ability to gain an immense sensibility, either to cause him troubles, or to awaken in him a practical and cognitive creativity, allowing him to anticipate others and its environment.

Tidal control has created the human species. The prophets, known by the human race, have surely existed in a certain way. The writings also prophesied these humans. Indeed, this sensitive creativity awakens into some people the ability to think with others through dialogue. This dialogue, driven while a big problem is solved, which could have annihilated other homos sapiens less prepared, reveals each day a truth with the others. So these humans talk about faith in each other, because the dialogue with the people and the worst examples reinforce their ego, their creativity, and therefore their faith. We could also find the same dynamics among the great discoverers and scientists of humanity. For them, glory will not really be remembered, but we remember their words or writings, so that society grows, to do as well as the life's creator.

There is also in the human that desire to go to the unknown, to discover it. The Asian is not afraid of differences. He married other human species more easily. Chinese calligraphy began our philosophical journey, especially with Confucius. The Native American has succeeded in diversifying human genes, discovering the most remote lands of Africa. Also the African has kept the largest genetic inheritance of humanity. He has this unbelievable faith in life, in society, in nature, in science, therefore, despite the hardships he has lived.

The white skin comes from the lack of sun. It can be said that today's Africans like hot weather. The European and the Asian have created an advanced society, by the control of a difficult climate and a rich nature, difficult to control. The Greeks continued the human philosophical path of the Asians.

While transforming swamps into fields, Plato's scientific reflection makes it possible, with Africans, to create a new paradigm, a human's growth through a better life's quality.

All animals are afraid of fire except the human. Here is creating human economy. Fire control has kept food longer. This gave more time to think. This made you want to always master nature. The ax allowed sedentariness and the first houses. Still, our ancestors spent a lot of time surviving, working a lot to get little.

Breeding and cultivation made it possible to create the first villages, with organized and specialized societies. After the biomass' energy, the human then monopolizes the energy and the benefit of the breeding, to increase people, while providing less effort. It's up to a society that respects its citizens to respect animals. Human society can only exist by the others' advantage.

Then, the trade created writing, used at the beginning by the nobility to count. The association between individuals and societies has increased. These different technological stories can be summarized thus: The work's economy through energy, linking elements, then humans, societies, nations.

The companies that best control the labor economy are also the most cultured, the richest. But educated leaders are often not as sensitive as their parents, having not had to solve big problems. This human society's flaw then reveals our animal character. This flaw is solved with creative people, which is often small, because being creative demands to confront to the truth of others. If this population is harmed, a society or civilization is destroyed. If the creative population is increased or favored, great industrial and scientific leaps take place, whose the cause is due to the creative sensitivity's growth, defying jealous lobbies or powers. This is how human society has always grown, writings keeping the gains.

The more the complementary people or the families will be close, the more the dialogue and the linking will be favored, the more there will be intelligible and material wealth, the more this dialogue and these linkings will allow realizing tools, or elaborating quality products. A society that understands this issue will grow very quickly. Big names will be created in the sensitive, creative and rebellious population. Thus a society, called empire, which will individualize, will be lost, because the human understands itself only through the bond and the dialogue. The links between ideas allow to link elements.

On 2016, there are still elements asking to reveal their powers. There are still subjects to create, more than we imagine. The human has this creativity that will allow his society to equal God, discovering the universe organizing.

My Notes

Read the books of Henry Charles Carey. Write to become an economist.

Henry Charles Carey
(XIXth century)

Church is the Human's Image

The Catholic religion has been on standstill, for various scientific reasons, historical, structural, by its lack of philosophers listened to. But it can currently make people thinking, because it has a revenge to take against liberalism. Indeed, the church is aware of the intellectual poverty and the individualism of the people.

There was a time when we had to be religious to get access to scientific knowledge. But, despite this fact, the religious, whose rised science, were against religious individualisms. The one who rises science must contradict those whom are less responsible than themselves, who are responsible to judge him. In other words, when we could not convince his superior, mediocre, we could be eliminated. The religious were killing against one of the ten commandments, saying that jealousy is to be avoided.

This operation still exists in companies. The directors have, for many, no scientific thought, just knowledge. The opponents of Galileo referred to Aristotle without referring to Plato, whom described the scientific reflection that Socrates used. Nowadays we see the same functioning, between the researchers and the directors. The director had his place, because he knew the knowledge of the past, without philosophizing as Socrates would have done. He refers to Socrates without being like Socrates. The seeker is like Socrates, because he says to himself that the disciple can go beyond the master, and sees that Plato has described how to think scientifically.

The scientist refers to Plato because he knows that he can do as Plato does, and improves that his fathers did. His passion is led being Socrates as Plato writes. But the one who leads can philosophize only privately, because he has to communicate that he has been taught. Many will not philosophize and deny Socrates, because Socrates wants above all to convince him to do the same as himself. They will refer to Socrates because the scientist does not seek power, but the eternity of scientific recognition, which rarely happens. Many theologians will quickly become jealous of someone who goes beyond Socrates, because there will be a balance of power, not a philosophical and scientific debate. The reason why Galileo was killed is that his judges are executors, no noble rulers in the spirit. Religion had animals at its head, because the logic of the country was, for a long time, to execute that wanted the main beneficiaries of the system, those who owned the currency.

What connects Aristotle and the scientist? They have the same passion. They both seek to improve humanity to be remembered, as was Socrates. What connects the religious leader and Socrates? The writings of Socrates. The head of the church will therefore want writings, while the scientist philosophize to improve his writings. The church leader therefore has got an interest to search for the writings' flaws, whereas he does not know how to philosophize, just to find a posthumous glory. Galileo, having not finished philosophizing with his fellow-men, especially to prevent numerous attacks, has been be punished because there are not enough scientists like him, really Socratic. On the other hand, he will have won the eternity of civilization. He will live through our civilization, which he wanted to improve.

Moreover, a scientist must especially fight the humanity's lack of his peers. He must have a thorough thinking about that he sees. He can not publish his scientific discovery too soon. If he has no believer alive around him, they can not be passionate about convincing. Life is the creativity of the universe. Creativity is our humanity, because it brings us closer to the universe's knowledge. It makes the one who allows to understand better the universe a God. This goes against monotheistic religions, saying that God is already there. All scientists who emit new theories can quickly pass as sectarians, if everyone believes that says a religious leader himself sectarian, referring to imperfections making him a human being. The more the scientist is right, the more he will pretend to be a God. If he ends up not being right about everything, it becomes a sacrilege. He is not a God and must be punished. Monotheistic religions have a flaw because many believers do not believe that we can match God, which is possible through our creativity, more important than being universe. Indeed it is more interesting to be a spirit describing the universe than not being creative enough, to grow and transform his mind.

The monotheistic religions were trapped by this fault in the nineteenth century, by the leader's belief. Indeed, liberalism says that it is the individual whom makes society. Monotheistic monks may believe that the one whom is leader is not God because of his imperfections, and therefore the religious leader does not need to be creative facing his imperfections, since, thus, he is not a God. Liberalism will tell him that his individuality is important, while it does not allow us to understand each other. Indeed, we understand above all our sociability, not our creativity and our individuality. The religious leader may therefore find attractions to some liberal doctrines, since he is recognized as an individual without being a God. On the other hand, liberalism will constantly hide our sociability and our creativity, especially with individualism.

The liberal and the religious leader can then agree that creativity is to be banned, because it makes someone as a God, if they grow science. Science will therefore also be outlawed for the religious leader whom has fallen into the liberal individualism's trap. Indeed, this science will be able to dethrone it at any time, because the leader will be imperfect. This is the challenge of the nineteenth century. We will try to prevent people from becoming Gods, that is to say, scientific references for humanity, so that the wealthy believe in God with the power they have had got on money. These leaders will themselves be possessed by their scam. They can become idiots. On the other hand, they will benefit from the growth's glory demanded by the people, gifted by the weapons. So when the money economy is in place, we refer to these people without talking about them. They have the glory of having bowed to the people. On the other hand, the owners will be worse than idiots, people capable to make their fellow citizens become idiots. Thus social liberalism will only be the means to gain power by the opportune way, while the social will be hidden from the people, so that they do not understand each other. The social-liberal leader will have learned in economics schools that markets are magic, and will not do anything revolutionary when he has got power. He will do that he has learned from the monetary economy, so to disengage the state, then to destroy growth, therefore the republic, but also the nation-state rised by Mazarin. The nation-state is the necessary growth's condition of a country. The people's coherence is necessary to grow, therefore for the republic. Indeed, each nation-state has a culture, so a different story.

Moreover, liberalism will replace the people's history by the owners' individuality.

On 2014, the religion's problem is mainly that those whom are religious are not interested enough about science, because the current scientific doctrine prevents believing in life, by censorship, although it is possible to believe in life on every way. You will just have to say that Leibnizian science, itself inspired by Chinese science, allows those whom learn science to believe in life. Then you explain to them that the current school's scientists do not learn to think scientifically, as Jules Ferry's path. Then you explain that the physical economy makes everyone agree, whether it is on the right and on the left, the bipartisanship that citizens expect. The physical economy's public productive credit, referring to Roosevelt, Lincoln, Hamilton, links both the growth communism and the state capitalism of the then glorious 30. Indeed, the public productive credit is public money created according to the people's growth, which allows the universe, this beauty of life.

Thus you explain that each time it was the liberals who prevented the two models from linking, because individualism and private money lead to war, because it is only a question to command. You explain then that this was when the money's protectionism and industries existed that the world was growing without war. You also explain that the BRICS use this model in part. They use it partly because liberalism promotes their individualist films so that the wealthy transgress the Confucianism necessary for the China's cohesion. You explain, however, that the BRICS' physical economy, currently in place, allows them to let the money's belief establishing the growth's belief, therefore Republic's belief. Nature allows it, because life organizes atoms, so that growing minds are born. You then tell them that the spirit and the human's autonomy make it possible to improve nature, so that more minds have their right to be humans, that is to say the right to access to creative reason, to believe in life or religion.

The liberalism's flaw is censorship, since its culmination is the spirits' poverty. The liberalism's rejection therefore requires creative and philosophical minds, seeking to transcend the human, not themselves. Liberalism will seek censorship, to prevent there being enough philosophical and creative minds interested about politics. Those who defend the physical economy will have to access the creative reason themselves. Those who dare to question themselves may strengthen their ego, to sublimate their sociability, and vice versa, daring to discuss their limits, philosophizing.

Despite the happiness that will strengthen the ego questioning, people will be very grateful, because as jealous as in the nineteenth century. Indeed, the oligarchy uses polls, then social networks, to first make pessimistic or arrogant, by a career at work. It will be enough for it, then, to create artificial codes, thanks to the individualist films and the rhythmic music sensory and entertaining, then thanks to the way of game's society, consuming instead of creating. The more are convinced accessing to creative reason is, the more it will make non-creative people silly. So there will have got many idiots but more and more people warned.

The liberals advocating entertainment will begin to think about those who dare to philosophize with them, to gain credibility, so that these philosophers dare to write and propose the physical economy to the leaders.

The fault of these philosophers will be their small number and their belief in the images of individualist films, because the human did not question himself, when his individuality is well. There will also be their social's misunderstanding, to find benchmarks. It will be especially their spirit's weakness, which is seen in France by an arrogance facing adversity. This arrogance will require rising. If there is no philosopher in the team, this team will struggle to dialogue with those whom must be convinced, then bloom through music, chosen for mechanical accessibility to a creative reason, by its ability to make thinking. They may not even detect certain qualities, not knowing them, but especially not communicating enough. Thus they will not know how to quickly increase their team. Indeed, some will not be passionate, just convinced, because few citizens dare to speak against politicians trapping them with the law, not knowing the Henry Charles Carey's physical economy. Thus some may become frenzied individualists, because they will not philosophize on their limits, believing that they must hide their limits. They will be the fault of this organization's kind, because it is indeed a psychological war, requiring to individualize the population, to make it pessimistic, censoring social and creativity.

The finance will believe then that it is necessary to install a dictatorship to kill people too difficult to control. Rights will go away because many of the workers will be pessimistic followers, but also because the unemployed will not dare to act politically, in order to find a useful job, not a rising job.

Everything will be played out with the networks convinced to grow and the right to creative reason. The creative reason will go so far as to be outlawed by leaders, whom can then lead the right people into the wall. Only those who think will see the trap where they are. Here again Henry Charles Carey will lead, because the physical economy's bases that he teaches us will be transmitted to the others, so that they can propose to the elected officials or to their colleagues of the local banks, lending their money morally, of public buildings' companies, to prevent the rise of real estate prices, or any other citizen creation favoring the real economy, that is to say all that we did according to the National Resistance's Council.

The outcome will be the speculation's liquidation by the Glass-Steagall Act, which should also save the deposits. The mutuals and cooperatives created will create a new deal, to teach the liberals that life is, so the universe is. The only alternative will be growth by the public productive currency, because it will be a question about rebuilding with scientific genius. Finance will become more and more lonely because the system will have favored only a few.

On 2014, it is for it to find more and more illusions, to satisfy people, whom will be more and more sensitive to the creative reason, because homo sapiens awakens his sensitivity when he has big problems to solve, being able to solve them, and thus to solve others mechanically, as long as he guesses and seeks solutions.

The Soul

How does a Higher Idea Born?

Finding an idea from two or three others seems supernatural. Indeed, our mind abandons the ideas causes of the higher idea. That is to say that our mind thinks, does not find an answer immediately, that our soul uses this, that it does not answer us immediately, not to give us too much power. Indeed, if our higher ideas were born just after making the links, then we should always be thinking, without ever being serene or calm.

Our soul commands us, that is, it answers to our wisdom. Weak minds understand the world of God, because God was weak at first, as everyone was. That's why we are weak, by the physical that composes us. Our soul appeals to the God's world, to satisfy our wisdom, our patience. Our soul answers to our spirit, when it sees that it is able to grow, by the higher hypothesis, that our soul carries.

After meditating, have you ever seen your mind going quickly after finding an idea? This is a superior hypothesis. Your soul changes your mind with the higher hypothesis. It will be about meditating again, so that the mind gets used to this idea.

Thus, the pupil asks his teacher for a superior hypothesis. But the pupil assimilates this hypothesis only if it is passionate about the ideas' links given to the teacher. Thus the pupil will accept that the teacher says, within his nature's limits.

But the soul sees further. She tells us that when we asked ourselves all the necessary questions. Indeed, how could it be otherwise? Thus the student will not necessarily have all the necessary questions in mind, so can not easily ask other questions. He will get lost in his master's shortcuts. That is why the teacher must define, must know if the student has every questions, not to make it uncertain, but to do it one, so that his soul accepts the hypothesis really.

So a master, through our soul, gives us answer at the right time. So there is a world of perfect knowledge, a world that can answer to our questions. This world explains the multiverse theory. But in this world, there is little chance, since this world answers our questions. Thus, there are few worlds more imperfect than ours, apart from the material that composes them, since there is a perfect world that answers to us.

Thus test worlds exist, that is to say worlds where God has not dared to give answer to spirits, because too powerful, because too animal, seeing them too little grown. God should have known every life's stages.

These other worlds seem numerous. So it seems that God can access it as easily as in ours, which seems to show that God does not know space, space that creates time with us, space seeming null in the God's world, time seeming present in the world. God's world, since God is also growing with the human.

God created the human to come with him, as Jesus said. That's why God answers to our questions. He does not answer to our questions so that we are powerful, since we are not original, but so that we are as weak as a soul lost in the universe, power's capable through linking, not with strength.

God has not been able to live materially, which is our strength, but also our weakness. God, however, wants the eternity of someone who has been material, which he did not know. But this requires weakness, to be equal to God. The link exists in God, therefore. It is even perfect, this link, because it gives us answer.

My Notes

Try to find the missing links in your mind, questioning your soul.

Should not we be questioning to be able to answer to the students?

School of Professor Jacobs, nineteenth

What Is a Soul ?

How can we live? What drives us? How can I exist relating to another?

All these questions help defining soul. The soul is that animates a body, which makes it alive, which makes it one. Indeed, life can not exist without something that animates material. The soul is that makes us grow.

The soul is the fact that everyone exists in the universe, or another universe, in relation to others. The soul makes it possible to prove that the universe exists. It makes us living, that our mind thinks we exist. Every soul makes a living being.

It is thought that the soul makes our body living. In fact, Luc Montagnier, the discoverer of the AIDS virus, says that the coherent water of every living body is animated with microphones and nanowaves. Thus, Luc Montagnier was able to recreate genetic material from a simple MP3 player, obviously using cell's elements. He recreated the waves that our soul produces.

That is certain is that the soul orders. It is possible that it creates time. The soul is touching God. That is, it gives us ideas about our questions and our links. The soul organizes plants and living things. Animals and humans have a sensitive soul, capable of consciousness. Humans have a soul capable to create something new, so it is noetic. The creative reason is the human.

The universe needed souls to prove that it existed. God has a soul that is in his universe. Indeed Lourdes' miracles or those of some recent prophets are unbelievable, for the doctors whom knew them. Jesus explained that fair souls will join God, or his paradise, where there is no notion of time gap. The human soul is called to be the equal of God, after judgment. The animal soul is abandoned as was the human soul on prehistory.

Egyptians believed in the journey after death.

According to the multiverse theory, another universe should act on ours with souls, with gravity too. The soul is a creation of the universe. That is driving us comes from another universe.

My Notes

Understanding the soul is a truth's research. Nobody thinks that one soul can replace another. Try to imagine that should happen if that were the case. Write on the soul then.

Life Is Movement

Vladimir Ivanovich Vernadski
physics.

Life is movement. Movement is energy. Life is constantly growing. It is not fixed nor conservative. Life creates movement. According to Vernadsky, the more vital activity there is, the more life there is. Thus, our body grows constantly. It regenerates itself. It changes itself perpetually, changing raw materials constantly. So, we can say that we have perhaps material that was in Jesus. Indeed, that we eat renews our body.

There is energy in every atom. To create movement we need the material's energy. There is also our soul's waves, according to Luc Montagnier. Maybe our soul is composed of energy. In any case, the more CO₂ there is, the more plants there are. The more oxygen there is, the more living lives there are.

So nature uses what is on the atoms, whereas the human has found the energy inside the atoms. Nature is very economical. We can not match it while using the sun. The yield is of the order of 99%.

My Notes

Read the beginning of "The Biosphere" by Vladimir Ivanovich Vernadsky, or one of his books about life. Write at the same time about the life's movement.

There Is Life in Atoms

An atom

Media tells us that life is a coincidence. This sentence is both false and true. The scientist, on 2014, actually believes that the universe is born of nothingness. But our universe, whose is otherwise going to another universe, can not be organized by chance. From Bible, this other universe should recreate a new universe, more just. The human has not yet created new lives from scratch. We are only transforming that we have defined scientifically. Different scientists have never determined that balls moving disordered can be organized, indicating that life could be born by chance, not even proving chaos' theory about universe. Indeed, any random organization contradicts the chaos theory of the universe. Life contradicts chaos, the culmination of the liberal traffic. Any scientist who contradicts the material's ability to organize must also prove that he lives by chance in the universe where he is.

There is something superior that organizes us. Indeed, the masculine and the feminine are separated, while they act for each other. How these twice very distinct entities could have been created at the same time, while there is a notion of infinity in each life.

Repeating this sentence: "Life is a coincidence" is therefore wrong in time's terms used. We can say "Life was a chance". But our universe can not determine the random existing of life. This means that our universe is likely to be a divine creation, not necessarily another universe. We can therefore ask the Liberals to go to another world, to prove that life should be a coincidence now.

It is possible that, later, it is said that the universe was the cradle of humanity. We can not even assess this hypothesis for the moment. It does not even mean that life should be a coincidence, actually. On the other hand it is possible that a God be in each atom, in order to organize the material. Instead of a God there should have an infinity, going to the uniqueness of life, then of the spirit.

We regularly repeat "Life is a coincidence", on television, to bring us simply to the traffic chaos. So we see on television the violence, then the suspicion about everything that is organized against finance. All that will be organized against it will be individualized, contradicted by the logical deduction of Aristotle. Aristotle wasn't really a scientist.

You have to know that there is pressure on the pregnant woman, either to kill the child or to keep it. So, there is no progress with abortion.

Plato says that those whom use truth's research demanded by their minds end up finding freedom, which breaks understanding's chains. You often see in the movies, the scientists, having found, taking offense at an understanding's inaccuracy. These scientists use their truth's research, so the dialogue, with the unconscious, emerges hypotheses, which must then be proved, with an experiment, responding to the axioms of science.

Plato himself says that truth's research leads the human. The logical deduction of Aristotle doesn't permit to find. We can cite the experience of Aristotle, who "proved" that the Earth did not move, without knowing the dimensions of the Earth, or linking the Sun to the Earth. The logical deduction, however, is that teachers tells to children understanding, while children used Plato's scientific thinking to learn to walk and talk. Children have indeed used all their mind on the word to understand it, seeking a truth's path, many experiences, a dialogue that must be as regular as possible, because only our sociability can make us understand ourself. The child will have learned to talk and walk while having fun, without straining.

Vernadski thinks, according to Leibniz, that the one who will make the link between material and life will make a major fundamental discovery, leading to understand life, not to withdraw from it.

My Notes

How can life be organized?

Links between Soul and Body

The world is organizing so the universe is organized. Whoever organizes our world uses the universe's capacity that has made it possible to create the creator, in the immensity of the universe, of the universes. Thus the soul will be created by life, that is, the material's organization.

But we say that the soul is related to the mind and the body. The soul answers our questions, if we are likely to accept them. Thus it seems impossible to create life, other than capturing a soul, a soul that we know, but which is not in our universe.

The soul acts with the minimum of energy. Luc Montagnier explains that microwaves come from the water to organize DNA. If we reproduce these microwaves with a suitable MP3 player, then DNA is recreated from the necessary chemical elements. Thus the little energy used consciously changes a being to make it grow, so to modify the world around him. Thus is born the mind, able to make decisions, to go even to be the God's equal, when the human is in the truth, without necessarily that God had to act.

The soul is that makes the body grow, while adapting it to the material world. It seems that the Holy Spirit can help to grow souls, by the body too, so it sublimates a soul helping it. So it is possible that the world has grown through the Holy Spirit.

My Notes

Wondering how the soul can organize life.

Le lien avec l'âme permet de créer la cellule.

Why a Mass ?

A mass is used for a religious community to meet the faithful. It is not a matter of praying, that is thinking about others or about God. Above all, it is about organizing religious life, in order to convince others that there is a future after death, that life serves God. It is therefore about finding optimism to love others, to give them this utopia, whose is that we believe, to solve problems as soon as they arrive. It is about forgetting material, to think about the minds of others, a spirit that is the culmination of life. It's about planning events, finding out whom can help us loving others.

We use our mind to see a smile and meet other faithful, to organize the joy to be in society. Above all, it is about traveling, along with others, to the truth's way, which leads us to understand God, or to that which gives faith. It is not about filling his lacks to satisfy himself alone, but to strengthen himself to understand others. It is therefore important to be happy, finding how to accomplish a mission, for himself and others.

My Notes

Write on your action at meetings ?

Meditate in a

Why to Pray?

To pray is to think about others.

To pray is to think about others, to get them well. Thus, praying allows us to become attached to others through the mind, in order to broaden our relationship with others. Indeed, our individuality is reinforced with others. Maybe you're praying already, without knowing it. The point is to understand that the more you pray to others, the more you grow your spirit towards others.

We think about his family or his friends. We try to feel them us to put ourselves to their place, to better answer to their requests, to solve their problems as soon as they arise.

Some people think that praying is useless, that it is only a question of acting. Only we know how others react. So others know how we react. So praying allows us to get used to the difference of another soul, to better answer to him, in order to be satisfied and to satisfy him, so that each one will win, because that is possible.

To go further, as the human becomes stronger in society, praying allows to create a more fulfilling and to open individuality. Thus, the one who prays strengthens himself, with a better listening. Finally, meditation can touch the souls around us, to improve them.

My Notes

Pray while writing to your family or your friends.

What Is the Apocalypse?

The apocalypse is the end of a world to create a new world. A society is very difficult to organize because everyone wants to get something for himself. So those who do not advocate for their happiness, those who think that it is only about living, as life was an obligation, instead of being a chance, follow a decadence, proposed by those whom want to obtain society for themselves. Thus every society breaks because of the lack of life in society, the lack of understanding the meaning of mission, because of the sadness of that is proposed.

Instead, it is a question for everyone to become utopian. It is those whom seek to change society, according to utopia, whom create the new world, whether perfect or not, whether it is perfect or not. Each time, utopia will be too demanded for those whom direct it. It is up to everyone to discover the utopia of others, to transform his own, so that the new world brings happiness.

Those who campaign are happy because they think they bring happiness to society. This gives them an utility, so a meaning to their life. It also gives them tips that no one thought they should have. They know there is another world to build because of the inequities they find.

To make politics is to feel useful for one's artistic projects, contradicted by the scientific philosophy of others. Then the activist also becomes a philosopher and scientist, to better improve society. Debating with others allows his projects to succeed.

According to science and apocalypse from Saint John, we are moving towards a universe that will merge with ours. According to Saint John, the new universe created will create a new science, to create an ideal world or universe. It is therefore about transforming ourselves through truth's research, through our education, for and by our surroundings, through our profession, through our leisure, by God later or with our mission.

It is difficult to build a society.

My Notes

Seek to militate, for the happiness of others

God is a Great Soul

It seems that soul can only go to one goal at once. Indeed, God helped Jesus in the Middle East, so that the good news could be spread throughout the world easily. So God needs us to help him, to advise him, to act on our world. Thus, every educated soul has a gift in it, provided that the parents have got a story.

There is a Holy Spirit, guided by God, who acts on our world. Indeed, if we do not know why life is organized, we do not know why our society is also organized. There the Holy Spirit acts, in one place at a time.

God is a powerful soul, who creates souls with a body, a body he did not know, as Jesus said. This is obvious. Indeed, the world we know cannot be born by chance. The organization is no accident, as Einstein said. To believe that universe creates life by chance is, as Einstein said, to believe that one can organize an explosion.

Does Universe Has Got a Soul ?

On 2016, many think that the Universe is going towards a loss of energy. But NASA has explored the opposite. Not only are there more and more big stars, but there are also more and more little stars, a lot more.

The universe is organized as a body. The stars and their planets are the cells. Galaxies are the tissues. The universe is a finite body, created more and more by our bodies and chemical elements. The Universe is organized like a plant. This explains the lesser action's work that the light makes.

Our cells send information to other cells. The stars send light to the planets. The nerves send information to the head slower than stars. The emptiness of the universe, which owns material

n'est-il
pas
beau

without weight, makes it possible to see the rest of the universe. Light has a speed, just as our nerves have got their own speed. There is a blood flow in the body. The universe produces more and more small stars, creating life. Also, the planets, where there is life, revolve around the stars. Finally, it is possible that planets go in the universe.

This explains that the universe is going faster than the speed of light. The universe's soul allows a regularity that can be changed. The bigger the space is, the faster the time can go. Soul's sizes define speed within it. In other words, the universe slows chaos. This should mean that there would be infinite speed in the rest of the universe, infinite that created life, itself infinite. Life should regulate the infinite speed of the universe.

Time allows you to regulate a body. The soul regulates time. In other words, time evolves differently within different bodies. We can go faster than the light's speed. Indeed, our Universe goes to another Universe faster than light. We can speed up the time for a human body, up to a certain limit. But the starting point is that the soul can blossom only at a certain speed. The soul's speed is that allows its growth. It is therefore possible that the little souls see the time going faster. We see the children understanding quickly and the little adults thinking quickly. So, an adult soul has grown differently than child soul. Indeed, their soul is smaller and slows less.

The universe is a body that prevents chaos with light's speed, but also with its expansion into the void, which could not contain material. It is possible that there is another force than gravity and antimatter, coming from the atoms, being used to grow. Gravity should depend on another universe embedded in ours.

The Earth's biosphere is a body creating bacterial, vegetable, animal and noetic souls, that is, ours. The more life there is, the more vital activity is, according to Vernadsky. This vital activity requires a body that welcomes it. Our bodies, which aim to create societies, need the Earth's body, which aims to create our life. The body Earth lives in the solar system, which is maintained within the Big Bang's explosion. This does not prevent us from creating a Earth's body.

The Earth was created by the universe within the solar system. It needs the light's speed to grow.

Also the light's speed, overwhelmed by our moving universe, allows us to bring us to another entity, which, if it does not move, to go very quickly, if it moves, can decrease time. The universe makes it possible to reduce the chaos on a very large scale. Chaos is confused, infinite and instantaneous time. A body is governed by a soul, a body composed of its ingredients: The chemical elements.

My Notes

Write about what you know about the Universe to understand the concept of life.

Who is God ?

Our World Seems Artificial

Material is organized. We do not know exactly why. It sounds surreal. How can something very small act for the rest of the body? Nature does exist, it's not that I want to say. But our world is a creation. Otherwise, there would be mistakes preventing life from getting organized.

It therefore seems certain that the first life that appeared had many problems to undergo. She had many things to do for friends to be born, a kind of Jesus whom is born. The world must have been terrible with its imperfections.

So, it seems amazing our artificial world, where we die, while it is more difficult to create than to maintain, according to Blaise Pascal. It seems that we are dying for a good reason. We are surely tested. If we die and our life is difficult to create, it is because our life is used for something. In other words, some must surely live again after death, right?

My Notes

Write about creating the first life and creating our world.

Il faut bien que quelqu'un eût créé.

The First Life

When we wonder why there is life, we feel about the first life. As our universe is imperfect, the first life must remain. Then it was able to grow, since life is present everywhere in this world.

Nothing is known about that happened at the very beginning. Maybe the universe we do not know could live a long time without life. Nobody could feel that. It is possible that the first soul was born by chance. But soul acts on the present universe, unless it is other souls. In any case, our universe does not create life by chance. Otherwise, there should be no life in our universe.

What is certain is that souls take care of our universe. How can we exist other than by another universe? Indeed, research in biology shows that everything is organized in our body, without knowing why it is possible. For example, Luc Montagnier shows that some waves come from the coherent water. Where does this energy come from? We do not know it. That is certain is that souls allow such a complex life that we do not always fully understand it.

My Notes

Ask yourself why there is life and how it was born. This is a truth's research.

Why a God ?

God patterns the universe with constants

Everyone has got a God, someone, or something we worship. Some idiots have money as idol, others their wife or car. Why ? We know that we are everyone human beings. So when the child is born, he sees that he is weak, that he must ask for food. So his God is his parents, whom feed him. So, he refers to something or someone. It is history.

So everyone has a God. But what God for himself? The church does not like idols. Indeed, an idol is either an object, an animal, or a person. Why would we idolize an object? Indeed, human life is better than a mere object. It is therefore better to idolize a human rather than an animal or an object. Why did we idolize a human? Indeed, this human is born, like the others, on Earth. Why would he be more fostered than another? So it is better to idolize the one whom created us, whom we do not see.

My Notes

Write about the one you worship.

Creative Like the Universe

Life exists because the universe that we know can create life. Life is an universe's creation, so NASA discovered that there are more and more galaxies especially among the smaller ones. The universe is spreading and organizing itself, because large galaxies create instability in the universe. Large stars have a short life and easily create black holes.

If you meet scientists, some will tell you that the universe is going towards a death where there is no more energy, whereas, nevertheless, it is possible to generate energy with any atom, according to Einstein. If we have a look at science's history, we realize that even Pasteur, scientist deeply believing in the human, did not believe sufficiently in the creative universe's capacities. He had forgotten that he was a creation of the universe.

The French entropic standard is based on a quotation from Lavoisier: "Nothing is lost, nothing is created, everything is transformed". This dogma, still learned at school, can be easily gainsaid: If nothing is created how can something exist? So we know that if there was no more energy at all, the atoms should not move. But it is very difficult to make static atoms by bringing them to 0° Kelvin. So we would be in a universe without energy, where energy should act.

The entropic way consists to say that the universe is chaos, organized with transformation's laws, which brought life luckily. Yet scientists tell you that the probability to create life luckily does not stand up. It's as if human had made his discoveries like Newton, with an apple upon his head. Yet he copied Kepler. Many scientists are mistaken while trusting their senses. Yet, with the abstraction capabilities of the mind, one can rise through experiences and assumptions.

To be a good scientist, you have to be political and involved. This makes it possible not to be focused with others. One then use truth's research, which demands to find answers, consciously or unconsciously. Many bad scientists are capturing finance budgets because finance wants to show that resources are becoming scarce. Thus they hide the discovery of thorium, abundant energy, very stable and ecological, thanks to the belgian MYRRHA project. Unless someones make the people believe that we will run out of energy. These results makes ourselves pessimistic to better slaves ourselves. Someone whom believes that man can not grow, is a potential finance's follower, because he will not even rebel, believing about natural animal picking, also promoted by finance. For example, we see this eugenics in Le Monde newspaper on 2012.

Now, our creative reason should be transmitted through education. Indeed, it identifies us against the animal. It also allows us the work's economy, to raise us like scientists. Scientific brainstorming consists to verify hypotheses, through the truth's research, to grow with general interest, according to Confucius.

My Notes

Why is the universe growing ?

Who Is God ?

Explaining God is also explaining why there is life in the universe. But before that, it's about explaining physics. Let's talk about gravity. Gravity acts in a vacuum. Indeed our planet is attracted by the sun. It turns around, thanks to a balance of forces. In the same way, our universe is attracted by another universe. That's why our universe goes faster than the light's speed. Yet, gravity is said to be a weak force. It still has the ability to act in a vacuum, so through another universe. We think that God is in this other universe. When you look at gravity, represented by an arrow pulling an object, you can tell yourself that gravity is a force that pulls objects from nothing. As a result, the vacuum pulls or pushes the objects to attract them to other objects.

In the same way that our universe is attracted to another universe, life needs a soul mate, the right leg needs the left leg, the soul needs other souls. We act according to the history of our parents and our country, to renew the souls. God needs to create souls, unless it is the universe that creates souls, but God, perhaps born by chance, acts on our universe, to create souls like him. Indeed, Jesus, whom has existed, according to history, explains that the human will be in the same room as God. Perhaps we are called to join the universe where God is. This is that Christians are taught. Christians bring the word of Christ, which nailed us every time we heard it. I will try to do that.

Gravity is an automatic force. It is thought that it does not need God to act. In the same way, atoms carry life in them. The atoms move to give the cells. The entanglement that exists in atoms works on the same principle as gravity, within atoms only. Entanglement is the fact that one part of an atom changes its value according to another part of the atom, without time constraint. The interior of an atom acts without time constraint. Gravity also acts without time constraint. It is thought that God also acts without time constraint, apart from ours. Our universe is related to the universe of God. However, entanglement brings results different from gravity, whose created quantum physics, that is opposed to relativity. The theory of everything tries to bring together the two theories. Formulas try to create this new theory.

However, it is the authors' approach that allows us to move forward. God is one. But souls like ours will probably join this other universe where there is God, to surely help God. God surely uses the capacity of the universe to create life. According to Jesus, some souls are left and others are used. Jesus explained that only God chose the souls he kept.

My Notes

If you do not understand God, then try to understand why there is life. This is a truth-seeking process.

Is God made by material ?

We don't know if God is composed with same material as ours, but it seems that the thing that composes God is different, since material is perfectible, that is to say that it is imperfect.

It seems that God has created a plant, our universe, that he has placed worlds in this plant. How? Only the exploration of the universe will tell about that. This imperfect plant, he intends to make it perfect, according to the Bible, by another universe, towards whose we go, according to Science. Material is imperfect. To make material perfect is to remove that emptiness that makes us, the nothingness of the mind, which tends to prevent us from growing according to our truth's research. Thus the primitive elements brought should allow us to grow so perfect.

It seems, then, that God has created material from the universe that he has grabbed a perfect material, or that he has no need to act on our universe. Indeed, material requires to travel to space, while souls seem to easily change space. God contemplates our world, as if watching a film, on which he could act, as on a real game, whose he should create souls likely to join him.

God created the universe. He acts on our world, as he could act on another, because there is no notion of space in this universe. He knows that is happening in our universe because he can act on souls, help them, unless he has created a Holy Spirit by world, a soul growing each world. God, in any case, has the universe as an action's place, an action he can only activate at a single moment, being himself a soul.

Les apparitions d'anges ne sont pas que des images. Elles servent à donner des objectifs à l'humanité.

My Notes

Imagine and write about what God could be.

Who is Jesus ?

Jesus is proven according to archeology. We regularly find texts from apostles who relate Jesus. Jesus should be the messenger of God, better than a prophet. Indeed, the prophet feeds on others, to explain life. Jesus, according to the apostles, understood humans, to explain God. In fact, it seems that God understood humans with difficulty. This shows that the universe creates life, without the need of God. Since God is a life, this soul has brought Jesus. Indeed the Moses' laws seem archaic, facing the way provided by Jesus. Moses gave laws, such as the fact that gluttony is a sin, that deceive his wife, or her husband, be a sin. Jesus explained that God is merciful as soon as the human acknowledges his sin, but the God can only know that for some people. God is indeed capable to transform life. He also gave us this opportunity.

Jesus explained that we are called to be at his side. There is a hierarchy. It is possible that our spirit is kept. But it is unlikely. In any case, Jesus explained that God separates himself from certain souls, to keep others. The devil should help impure souls, whose should corrupt others.

These impure souls listen too much to the baseness of material. Even Jesus had to go to hell. He was very hungry in the desert, but God helped him to live. Jesus was preparing for retribution, but above all he wanted to know the imperfection of material, which shows that God knows hardly that we are going through. In the same way, God, with Moses, did not understand humans. God thought that one people was better than another, whereas it is our poor situation that makes it possible to reach God.

Only Jesus answered about the reason of life. I believed in Jesus before believing in God, since the Gospels are mysteries to human's glory. I now know that Jesus allowed God to understand humans, whom he did not fully understand before. God can only act one place at a time. That's why he needs souls.

My Notes

Read the New Testament from the Bible, or watch Old Testament movies. Try to write about that does not seem to be invented.

Conclusion

Multiply !

Une fusion d'atomes

Against that is said with the media, it is possible to grow, to multiply. Unlike the direction of poverty engaged, we can easily grow. Indeed Japan creates vertical fields, or underground fields, with energy. China has chosen nuclear thorium. These powerplants stop on demand and recycle waste uranium. We can also create fields in deserts, with drip and energy. So we can grow.

So what is braking us? There has never been so much money, while everyone has little money. In fact only 3% of the money is used into real economy. Money has been privatized. Monetary creation is responsible of bank shareholders, whom then devalue the currency and speculate to the short term. Thus industries are de-funded.

The Republic is about developing the country. There may be republican monarchies or dictatorships, just as there may be republican democracies. To be able to grow countries, it is necessary to have a public productive currency. On 2016, only the Yuan, the Chinese currency, is productive and public. The monetary creation of the Euro only relates to banks, whose 40% on loan. If the money belongs to the state, the public currency's creation brings 100% back to the state in monetary creation on public loan. Thus one can allocate the money created to defend the weakest.

My Notes

Watch Chinese news channels, in English, about growth. Compare with our growth.

What Is the Devil ?

According to some movies, the devil should be powerful. He should possess impure souls. The question we can ask ourselves is knowing why the devil exists. We can see that material is imperfect. But it grows the soul. But imperfect material means imperfect universe, therefore imperfect Souls, except origin.

Some people want the devil to exist. These are those whom do not want to ask questions about their live's usefulness. These people generally think that it is only about taking advantage of others. They encourage selfish pleasure, whereas there is better than entertainment, that is, happiness and joy.

To the opposite, the human is happy when he feels useful. The couple is the best demonstration. Our happiness is in fact making society, so that it comes back to ourselves, without going through the shortcut of animal selfishness. This way with others is so important to understand our personal happiness, linked to our fulfillment.

In fact the devil should exist only because God exists. Each soul creates its opposite, by the simple fact, for the other, to want to assert itself.

The devil is due to our imperfection, whereas God has shown himself as a pure soul.

According to Jesus, the devil should exist only in our universe, not in God's universe, unless there is yet another universe. Jesus wanted to meet our universe's devil, going to the desert. The devil corrupts the pure soul, the child, the baby. The devil is especially among those whom know its existence. Devil is due, according to Leibniz's monadology, to the imperfection of our universe and its material. Material creates time constraints with souls. That is why it does not exist in the same way in the universe of God. Indeed material can not move without time constraint, in the universe. God can do it, unless several souls take care of the earth alone.

My Notes

Read the Monadology of Leibniz, to better understand our universe. Write about that you do not understand.

What is the Holy Spirit ?

The Holy Spirit changes life on Earth so that it grows better. Indeed, life can only be organized by souls, but it must be helped changing. Not everything is written automatically into atoms, as the theory of chaos would have us believe.

But the Holy Spirit is also an intuition. But our own intuition can disturb it. That's why we have to believe that the Holy Spirit speaks to us. So we must be into the truth with a cause into the truth.

My Notes

How can DNA change to create, for example, animals' growth that is difficult to understand?

Our Soul Grows

A soul is that organizes life. A soul is an imperfect life, except God's soul, according to the Bible. Souls seems to be less and less perfect. It seems that our universe was created to choose the righteous souls. Our souls helped to push the devil out of the God'universe, the famous fair's paradise.

Our soul is like a newborn. She grows up with us. Indeed, it is often in conflict with our mind that can be simulated with robots. Bots do not understand the world of ideas with the higher hypothesis, encompassing a set of assumptions, superior hypothesis that is found through the soul. Our soul will be mature when it will become Holy. Otherwise she will be restored later or destroyed if she is sinful.

My Notes

Try to find a higher hypothesis linking hypotheses between them, by dialoguing and

108 Egyptians have imagined a judgment meditating.

Life after Death

Un paradis terrestre

As explained, according to every religions, life is eternal. That is to say that life is recreated. She should be resurrected. Life creates new lives. The Buddhist religion thinks that our life is reincarnated in animals. Monotheistic religions speak of beyond, of a life elsewhere, after death, in the sky, like images. The souls accepted by God would go into a universe, similar or equal to that of God, according to Jesus.

We should be the equal of God. We could act on the Earth this universe, without time's constraint difference. Indeed, the Holy Spirit acts easily at any place on the Earth. According to Christ, the purgatory's lives should resurrect, to be chosen later, according to God's mercy. To revive Christ, according to Christians, is to represent God, through his truth's research, which allows happiness. Also being optimistic and joyous allows, too, to reach God's universe. In fact, optimism and joy are good for others. Everything that benefits to society is good for God.

The Bible explains that the first will be last and the last will be first. This means that the poor will become rich.

The poor want to work. Also a job that we love flourishes. That means that we will have tasks.

The poor are happy with nothing. Also, seeking the truth makes you happy. As seeking for truth gives us joy and happiness, it means that we will be joyful with God. It's not an enjoyment, not desired by God in his world. Indeed, someone who just enjoys ends up creating his misfortune.

The poor spend time thinking while the rich can easily handle. This means that meditation and dialogue, which will be in us for eternity, will give us ideas. Indeed, we are satisfied by a sober life.

We enrich ourselves a lot with others, while the rich cloister. Also, our company only works through links. This means that we will always need others. This means that our soul will not change much, that we must listen to it, excepted that the rich does.

It is possible, however, that we know more things than before, since our world is imperfect, since our world is a creation, not a chaos because it is the opposite of chaos, so an organization. Only our search for truth is deeply rooted in our soul, imperfect according to the Bible. So we challenge God.

Only God chooses souls whom can not become the devil. He wants to destroy, according to the Bible, unjust souls, to keep righteous souls and to put sinners in purgatory. Righteous souls do not rebel because the world of God is full of righteousness. Purgatory would be an God's expectation, with joy's levels on each soul's passage to a better truth's research.

Purgatory should end up in the new world, which will destroy the old world when Christ will come. Indeed, we know that our universe goes to another universe. The Bible explains that this other universe will merge with ours, to create a new world, where justice will reign. The fishermen would be resurrected there, not the unjust ones. So it is possible that the righteous souls have grown up to take care of sinners. The universe, which we will, resolves material's imperfection.

Write about your life's usefulness.
